Informed Consent for In-person Services During COVID-19 Public Health Crisis

This document contains important information about your decision to participate in Expressive Therapy Center's in-person Inner Warrior Stage Combat Camp. When you sign this document, it will be an official agreement between all parties.

Decision to Meet Face-to-Face

You have agreed to meet in person for some or all days of the Inner Warrior Stage Combat Camp. If there is a resurgence of the pandemic or if other health concerns arise, camp will be held via telehealth. If you decide at any time that you would feel safer beginning or returning to telehealth services, Expressive Therapy Center (ETC) will respect that decision.

Your Responsibility to Minimize Your Exposure

You understand that by coming to the office, you are assuming the risk of exposure to the coronavirus (or other public health risk). This risk may increase if you travel by public transportation, cab, or ridesharing service.

To obtain services in-person, you agree to take certain precautions which will help keep everyone (you, other families, other campers and ETC staff) safer from exposure and sickness. If you do not adhere to these safeguards, it may result in starting/returning to a telehealth arrangement.

- All campers and clinicians are required to wear masks when inside the building.
- You will only attend the summer camp if you are symptom free.
- You will be asked to have your temperature checked upon arrival at the center. If it is elevated (100 F or more), or if you have other symptoms of the coronavirus, you agree to return home and proceed using telehealth.
- If a resident of your home or workplace tests positive for the infection, you will immediately let the center know and your camper will be switched to telehealth.
- You will wait in your car or outside until the time for check-in begins in order to maintain social distancing protocol. An ETC administrator will guide each camper to their designated camp area.
- You will wash your hands or use alcohol-based hand sanitizer when you enter the building.

ETC may change the above precautions if additional local, state or federal orders or guidelines are published. If that happens, we will notify all campers and families of any necessary changes.

Expressive Therapy Center's Commitment to Minimize Exposure

The Expressive Therapy Center has taken steps to reduce the risk of spreading the coronavirus within the office and we have posted our efforts on our website and in the office. Please contact our administrative team for further questions.

If You or I Are Sick

You understand that Expressive Therapy Center is committed to keeping you, our staff, and all of our families safe from the spread of this virus. If you arrive at the Inner Warrior Stage Combat Camp and you or our staff believe that you have a fever or other symptoms, or believe you have been exposed, you will be required to leave the office immediately. An ETC administrator will follow up with you and your family to discuss telehealth options.

If Expressive Therapy Center staff test positive for the coronavirus, you will be notified immediately so that you can take appropriate precautions.

Informed Consent

This agreement supplements the general informed consent/business agreement that is signed at the time of enrollment in the Inner Warrior Stage Combat Camp.
